Guestpost: Natasha on Emmanuelle, aka Fusée Dorée:

After a good one woman performance on 17 June 2011 in Amsterdam for the quarter final in the singer-songwriter category of the Groter Prijs van Nederland, a Dutch music award, Emmanuelle Orson aka Fusée Dorée, French but living in Amsterdam, is putting out her first two singles "Un rendez-vous/ La carte" on Amsterdam-Detroit based label, Cherry Juice Recordings. Says Orson: "A couple of years ago, I was playing around with my loop machine, putting music to French poems for a performance at the French Institute in Amsterdam. And it felt good, experimenting with vocals and minimal guitars and beats. So I haven't stop playing, and songs have popped up and grown, and now there's a whole family of them."

Fusée writes her own lyrics in both French and English and works with other musicians such as Mario Ramirez, a fellow musician from band Children SoMaadre who played bass on a few songs, while Jan Holthake and Max Koedijk cooked up some additional beats. Her voice has just been featured on CBJ's digital release "Quelle importance", performed by Japanese house artist and DJ Motomitsu.

Speaking of which, not only will Motomitsu be in town on Saturday 25 June to be part of the live performance of Fusée Dorée at De Nieuwe Anita in Amsterdam (her new single is seriously electro and trip hop), Où La La's Natasha has rounded up DJ Laurent Chambon and DJs Cowboy & Henk for an evening of high energy French music inspired by Fusée Dorée called GOLD.
